My thought on this are harsh. During the pandemic, my Disney cruise was canceled in March 2020 and we received a full refund. We decided to try Royal Caribbean cruise line so we booked with them for June 2020. We soon found that the country we were cruising from San Juan, Puerto Rico, was making people quarantine for 2 weeks upon arrival. This would mean missing the cruise and being stuck there for 2 weeks. I called Royal Caribbean and told them. They did not care and said there was no proof of that. We were not getting a refund and would get FCC only. I could not chance that they would not cancel and we would be out all the $ we had spent which was $5000 and some change. I cancelled anyway as I could not risk it. We had FCC, so I tried again to book with them. We booked, got cancelled and at that point, requested a full refund. They refused saying since we originally cancelled and got FCC, we get no refund. This floored me. I was so angry and still am. Now we are booked again because I am NOT giving them my hard earned $. So far I see that there may be a mandatory vaccine to cruise. If that is the case, we cannot cruise and we should get complete and full refund of ALL monies paid by us. This would be their doing. It is like they are holding us and our $ hostage. I will NEVER AGAIN book a cruise with this ride cruise line. At this point, none of us want to go. Also, our FCC was not completely used up. Only 200.00 left and they won't even allow me to have it as a ship credit to use up but ONLY ANOTHER FCC FOR ANOTHER CRUISE, which we will not do. This is a crime and I am contemplating suing them.
