Dear Secretary;

My husband and I have been scammed out of $10,590 for a cruise which was to take place in March 2020. The cruise was "rescheduled" twice before being officially cancelled last month. The company, operating as "Cruisebuilders" or "Vacationbuilders" out of Utah sold us a personalized Mediterranean charter cruise with special guests and speakers which was to be a once in a lifetime experience.

Upon cancelling the cruise they are refusing to offer refunds even though payment in full was required 6 months prior to the original sailing date.

I have reached out to Cruisebuilders requesting a refund multiple times, which they have refused. I have contacted the State of Utah Department of Consumer Affairs, the Better Business Bureau, my credit card company, and I am looking for an attorney.

A copy of this is attached.

Thank you;

Amanda Harris and Ryan Johnstun
