

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

Office of Administrative Law Judges

CHINA UNITED LINES, LTD., Complainant

v.

AMAZON.COM SERVICES LLC; AMAZON LOGISTICS INC.;
AND BEIJING CENTURY JOYO COURIER SERVICE CO., LTD., Respondents.

DOCKET NO. 25-04

Served: September 22, 2025

ORDER OF: Erin M. WIRTH, Chief Administrative Law Judge.

REVISED SCHEDULING ORDER

On September 19, 2025, the parties filed a joint motion seeking an extension of time (“JSR”). The parties state that they have already exchanged their first document production and are completing a second production this week. Additionally, the parties participated in a full day, in person, private mediation on August 19, 2025, to address this and other pending cases. Additional time is requested to resolve discovery issues, plan for and conduct witness depositions, and to “align the scheduling of this case with that in the parallel case pending in the Southern District of New York, allowing better coordination and providing efficiencies.” JSR at 2. Moreover, the parties contend that additional time will allow for continued settlement discussions and will not cause undue delay or disadvantage to either side. Id.

The parties are working together to resolve document discovery issues and efficiently manage multiple related proceedings. In addition to the related federal case and litigation overseas, this proceeding also has an appeal currently pending before the Commission. Given the unique procedural posture of this proceeding, the proposed revised discovery schedule is reasonable and adopted. The parties should prepare for briefing to begin within thirty days of the close of discovery. Accordingly, the parties are hereby ORDERED to follow this schedule:

December 15, 2025 Last Day for Fact Discovery and Depositions.

December 22, 2025 Last Day for Service of Requests for Admission.

December 23, 2025 Expert Reports Due. Joint Status Report with Proposed Schedule Due.

January 9, 2026 Expert Rebuttal Reports Due.

January 23, 2026 Close of All Discovery.

The parties are encouraged to continue discussing settlement of this proceeding. However, such discussion will not stay other deadlines in the proceeding as engaging in discovery could provide evidence that assists the parties in resolving their differences, while delays hinder the parties' progress. If a settlement is reached, the parties must file a motion requesting approval of it along with a copy of the settlement. 46 C.F.R. § 502.72(a)(3).

The parties should review and carefully follow instructions in the Initial Order, which includes information about submitting confidential material, and the Scheduling Order, which includes information about briefing requirements.

Erin M. Wirth
Chief Administrative Law Judge