DOCKET NO. 25-24

SOUTHERN INTERNATIONAL CO., LTD.,

Complainant,

v.

DAYNAMEZ GROUP OF COMPANIES LLC,

Respondent.

COMPLAINANT SOUTHERN INTERNATIONAL CO., LTD.'S
EXPEDITED MOTION TO COMPEL RESPONSES TO SECOND
WRITTEN DISCOVERY AND FOR LIMITED RELATED RELIEF

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Complainant Southern International Co., Ltd. ("SIC"), appearing through its Director and authorized corporate representative, respectfully moves pursuant to 46 U.S.C. § 41303(a)(2) and 46 C.F.R. §§ 502.12, 502.69, 502.71, 502.102, 502.105, 502.141, 502.145, 502.146, 502.147, and 502.150(a) for an expedited order addressing Respondent Daynamez Group of Companies LLC's ("Daynamez") complete failure to serve responses or objections to SIC's Second Written Discovery. SIC seeks an order compelling responses to Second Interrogatories Nos. 19-45 and Second Requests for Production Nos. 31-48, confirming that Rule 502.147(a)(3) applies according to its terms to timely-unanswered Second Requests for Admission within the scope of Rule 502.147(a)(1), reducing the time for Daynamez to respond to this Motion, and, only if necessary, limited scheduling relief to permit compliance with the resulting order.
2. This Motion presents a discovery dispute distinct from SIC's pending July 5, 2026 Motion to Compel (Dkt. 41). Dkt. 41 concerns alleged deficiencies in Daynamez's responses to SIC's First Written Discovery. The present Motion concerns Daynamez's separate failure to serve timely answers, objections, written responses, or document production in response to SIC's Second Written Discovery served July 14, 2026. SIC does not seek reconsideration, supplementation, or re-briefing of Dkt. 41, and does not request in this Motion relief as to any First Discovery issue already submitted to the Presiding Officer.
3. SIC served the Second Written Discovery on July 14, 2026. The three sets expressly required responses within thirty days, absent an order or written agreement otherwise. The response period expired on August 13, 2026. As of the filing of this Motion, SIC has received no answers, objections, written responses,

- or document production concerning the Second Written Discovery, and SIC is not aware of any order or written agreement extending Daynamez's response deadline. Copies of the Second Interrogatories, Second Requests for Production, and Second Requests for Admission, each including its certificate of service, are submitted as Exhibits A, B, and C, respectively. SIC's July 14, 2026 service email is submitted as Exhibit D.
4. Expedited treatment is warranted because the Scheduling Order (Dkt. 33) closes discovery on August 24, 2026. Ordinary briefing would leave little or no time before the discovery cutoff. SIC therefore requests that the Presiding Officer reduce Daynamez's time to respond to three calendar days, or such other shortened period as the Presiding Officer deems appropriate, while preserving a meaningful opportunity to be heard.

II. COMPLIANCE WITH RULE 502.71(a) AND RULE 502.150(a)(2)(i)

5. On August 15, 2026, SIC sent Daynamez's counsel and representative a written good-faith conferral identifying the anticipated motion, the relief SIC would seek, and the specific issues that could narrow or avoid motion practice. SIC requested a substantive response by 5:00 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time on Monday, August 17, 2026. SIC also reattached courtesy copies of the three Second Written Discovery sets while expressly stating that the courtesy copies did not constitute re-service and did not restart or extend the response period. The conferral email is submitted as Exhibit E.
6. Daynamez did not respond by the stated 5:00 p.m. EDT deadline, did not request a conference, and did not request an extension before the deadline. SIC therefore made the good-faith effort required by Rules 502.71(a) and 502.150(a)(2)(i), but cannot characterize this Motion as unopposed. In this same docket, the Presiding Officer has already held that a sufficiently specific email exchange may satisfy Rule 502.71(a). Southern International Co., Ltd. v. Daynamez Group of Companies LLC, Docket No. 25-24, Order on Complainant's Motion for Leave to File Reply, Dkt. 48 (ALJ Aug. 4, 2026) ("The email exchange attached as Exhibit B shows that Complainant satisfied this requirement.").

III. RELEVANT PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

7. The Presiding Officer's Scheduling Order was served April 22, 2026. It set July 17, 2026 as the last day for service of supplemental written discovery and August 24, 2026 as the close of discovery. SIC served its Second Written Discovery on July 14, 2026, before the last date for supplemental written discovery and sufficiently in advance of the discovery cutoff for the thirty-day response period to expire before August 24.
8. The Second Interrogatories comprise Nos. 19–45. Their preamble states that they are separate from and do not amend, supersede, replace, withdraw, narrow, or waive SIC's First Interrogatories or the relief requested in Dkt. 41. They seek information concerning, among other subjects, Daynamez's business email accounts, its contentions regarding its role, downstream service and payment relationships, identified payment transactions, accounting records, and operational processes. Ex. A.

9. The Second Requests for Production comprise Nos. 31–48 and likewise state that they are separate from SIC’s First Requests and Dkt. 41. They include a specific anti-duplication instruction: documents already produced need not be produced again if Daynamez identifies the exact Bates range and confirms that the prior production is complete for the particular Request, while preserving any separate obligation to produce an existing source, native, clean, unannotated, complete, or higher-quality version specifically requested and within Daynamez’s possession, custody, or control. Ex. B, Instruction No. 5.
10. The Second Requests for Admission comprise Nos. 25–110. They are separately directed to discrete factual propositions, many tied to identified communications or transaction records. The instructions specify that, unless a Request expressly concerns genuineness, a Request asking whether an identified document “states,” “identifies,” “reflects,” or was copied to an address seeks an admission only as to the content or addressing shown in the identified record and does not seek an admission as to the truth, completeness, admissibility, legal effect, or enforceability of a third-party statement or document. Ex. C, Instruction No. 9.
11. The Second Written Discovery concerns issues that remain material after the pleading stage, including Daynamez’s asserted operational role, its relationships with downstream transportation and service entities, the receipt and disposition of SIC funds, cargo-release communications, and defenses to SIC’s surviving Shipping Act claims. See Southern International Co., Ltd. v. Daynamez Group of Companies LLC, Docket No. 25-24, Order on Respondent’s Motion to Dismiss Second Amended Complaint, Dkt. 23 (ALJ Mar. 16, 2026).

IV. GOVERNING RULES

12. Congress authorizes parties in Commission proceedings to use written interrogatories and other discovery under Commission regulations that, to the extent practicable, conform to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. 46 U.S.C. § 41303(a)(2). Commission Rule 502.150(a) authorizes a motion to compel when a party fails to answer an interrogatory or fails to respond to a request for production under Rule 502.146; an evasive or incomplete response is treated as a failure to respond. A motion to compel must include the good-faith conferral certification, the unanswered discovery requests, any responses if they exist, the certificate of service accompanying the requests, and the relief and argument sought. 46 C.F.R. § 502.150(a)(2). SIC satisfies those requirements through this Motion and Exhibits A–E. There are no Daynamez Second Discovery responses to attach.
13. For interrogatories, Rule 502.145 requires answers or objections within thirty days; answers must be separately and fully stated in writing under oath, and objections must be stated with specificity. Rule 502.145(b)(4) expressly provides that a ground for objection not timely stated is waived unless the Presiding Officer excuses the failure for good cause. The Rule also limits interrogatories to fifty, including discrete subparts, absent stipulation or leave, and authorizes leave for additional interrogatories to the extent consistent with Rule 502.141(e)(2). 46 C.F.R. § 502.145(a)(1), (b).

14. For requests for production, Rule 502.146 requires a written response within thirty days. For each item or category, Rule 502.146(b)(2)(ii) requires the response either to state that inspection and related activities will be permitted as requested or to state an objection to the request, including the reasons; an objection to part of a request must specify the part and permit inspection of the rest. 46 C.F.R. § 502.146(b)(2)(ii)–(iii). Although Rule 502.146 does not contain the same express waiver sentence as Rule 502.145(b)(4), total silence does not satisfy the rule. Where Commission rules do not specifically address a procedural detail, Federal Rule practice may be followed to the extent consistent with sound administrative practice. 46 C.F.R. § 502.12; see also 46 U.S.C. § 41303(a)(2). Federal discovery practice generally treats untimely discovery objections as waived absent an adequate justification, while recognizing that exceptional legal protections may still control. See In re United States, 864 F.2d 1153, 1156 (5th Cir. 1989).
15. For requests for admission, the Commission's rule supplies a different consequence. A matter is admitted unless the responding party serves a written answer or objection within thirty days. 46 C.F.R. § 502.147(a)(3). A matter admitted under the rule is conclusively established unless, on motion, the Presiding Officer permits withdrawal or amendment under Rule 502.147(b). The federal analogue is applied the same way: default admissions have the same conclusive effect as affirmative admissions unless withdrawal or amendment is permitted. See American Automobile Ass'n v. AAA Legal Clinic of Jefferson Crooke, P.C., 930 F.2d 1117, 1120 (5th Cir. 1991).
16. A discovery motion is non-dispositive. 46 C.F.R. § 502.69(g). Rule 502.71 ordinarily gives the non-moving party seven days to respond and generally precludes a reply absent request or extraordinary circumstances. Rule 502.102 permits reduction of the time to file a document for good cause, and Rule 502.102(c) provides that responses to motions filed under that Rule must be served and filed within five days. Rule 502.105 further authorizes the Presiding Officer, for good cause, to reduce any time limit prescribed in Part 502 and to rule ex parte on requests submitted under Rule 502.102. The Presiding Officer also retains authority to limit unreasonably cumulative or duplicative discovery. 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(e)(2). Rule 502.141(i)(1) further authorizes the Presiding Officer, at a conference ordered under that provision, to direct the proper use of discovery procedures and make orders necessary to resolve discovery disputes and prevent delay or undue inconvenience; Rule 502.141(i)(2) permits a party, after reasonable efforts to resolve discovery disputes, to request a conference or rulings from the Presiding Officer on those disputes. Any stipulation extending discovery that would interfere with the established schedule requires Presiding Officer approval. Id. § 502.141(l).

V. DAYNAMEZ'S TOTAL NONRESPONSE WARRANTS AN ORDER COMPELLING SECOND INTERROGATORY AND RFP RESPONSES

A. The present dispute is a total failure to respond, not a disagreement over the sufficiency of a particular answer.

17. The operative facts are straightforward. As established above, Daynamez served no answers, objections, written RFP responses, or production by the response deadline. Daynamez likewise did not use the August 15 conferral to identify a particular objection, a claimed burden, a request that it contends is duplicative, a numerical-limit objection, a protective-order issue, or a date-certain plan to cure the default. On this record, Rule 502.150(a) directly authorizes relief as to the unanswered Interrogatories and Requests for Production.

18. The fact that Daynamez might later assert that some request is objectionable does not convert total nonresponse into compliance. Consistent with 46 C.F.R. § 502.12 and 46 U.S.C. § 41303(a)(2), the federal analogue provides that a party's complete failure to serve answers, objections, or a written response is not excused merely because the discovery is later characterized as objectionable, unless the nonresponding party had a pending motion for a protective order. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(d)(2). No such protective-order motion has been identified by SIC as of the filing of this Motion. The appropriate immediate relief is an order requiring complete, request-specific responses, while allowing the Presiding Officer to determine any specifically supported issue that properly remains open.

B. Interrogatory objections were not timely preserved; SIC also addresses the numerical limit in the alternative.

19. Because Daynamez served no timely objection to the Second Interrogatories, Rule 502.145(b)(4) applies directly: any ground not timely stated is waived unless the Presiding Officer excuses the failure for good cause. That text substantially supports treating Daynamez's failure to timely raise numerosity as a waiver of that objection, subject to the Presiding Officer's good-cause and discovery-management discretion. SIC therefore asks that Rule 502.145(b)(4) be applied according to its terms, while separately addressing the numerical limit and alternative request for leave below.
20. SIC nevertheless addresses the fifty-interrogatory limit proactively. The Rule counts discrete subparts rather than only numbered questions, and no order in this docket has judicially fixed the cumulative discrete-subpart count of SIC's First and Second Interrogatories. SIC recognizes that a strict method of counting some multi-part questions could place the two sets at or near, and potentially above, the numerical limit. That potential counting issue should not erase Daynamez's total nonresponse or permit a blanket refusal to answer the entire Second Set. Commission practice applies a pragmatic, substance-based approach to Rule 502.145(a)(1): subparts count separately when they introduce distinct lines of inquiry, while a request concerning multiple items may remain a single inquiry when it seeks details concerning a common theme. Applying that approach, an FMC Administrative Law Judge overruled a numerosity objection to an interrogatory concerning 525 shipments because the interrogatory did not realistically require 525 separate responses. TZ SSE Buyer, LLC v. COSCO Shipping Lines Co., Ltd., Docket No. 24-09, Order Granting in Part Complainant's Motion to Compel, at 7–9 (ALJ May 15, 2025). Consistent with 46 C.F.R. § 502.12 and 46 U.S.C. § 41303(a)(2), federal cases addressing Rule 33(a)(1) likewise reject mechanical counting. Subparts that are logically or factually subsumed within and necessarily related to the primary inquiry may be treated as part of a single interrogatory, while genuinely independent questions that can stand alone may count separately. Kendall v. GES Exposition Services, Inc., 174 F.R.D. 684, 685–86 (D. Nev. 1997). Safeco of America v. Rawstron, 181 F.R.D. 441, 443–46 (C.D. Cal. 1998) (treating separate RFA-subject inquiries as discrete where each addressed a distinct underlying matter). These authorities support a substance-over-form analysis; they do not eliminate the Commission’s express numerical limit or the Presiding Officer’s discretion.

21. The appropriate treatment is three-tiered. First, the Presiding Officer may enforce the Second Interrogatories under the pragmatic, substance-based common-theme counting approach described above. Second, Daynamez’s failure to timely raise numerosity substantially supports waiver of that objection under Rule 502.145(b)(4), subject to the Presiding Officer’s good-cause and discovery-management discretion. Third, if the Presiding Officer concludes that one or more Second Interrogatories exceed the cumulative limit, or declines to treat numerosity as waived, SIC alternatively requests leave under Rule 502.145(a)(1), consistent with Rule 502.141(e)(2), for those additional interrogatories because they are targeted to developments in the discovery record, Daynamez’s remaining defenses, payment tracing, downstream relationships, source-accounting issues, and the regulated-entity contentions that remain material to the case. If leave is not granted as to every interrogatory, SIC respectfully requests permission to designate, within one business day of the Order, the Second Interrogatories it elects to pursue within the permissible cumulative count, and that the Presiding Officer compel those interrogatories rather than deny relief as to the Second Set as a whole.

C. Daynamez must serve request-by-request RFP responses and complete nonduplicative production.

22. Rule 502.146 required Daynamez to serve a written response to each Second RFP. For each item or category, the response must either state that inspection and related activities will be permitted as requested or state an objection to the request, including the reasons; an objection to part of a Request must specify the part and permit inspection of the rest. 46 C.F.R. § 502.146(b)(2)(ii)–(iii). None of that occurred. SIC therefore requests an order requiring complete request-by-request written responses and prompt production of all responsive, nonprivileged material within Daynamez’s possession, custody, or control. To the extent Daynamez withholds otherwise responsive material on a claim of privilege or protection, it should identify the withheld material in a privilege log sufficient to permit the claim to be assessed, consistent with Southern International Co., Ltd. v. Daynamez Group of Companies LLC, Docket No. 25-24, Initial Order, Dkt. 5 (ALJ Sept. 5, 2025), and applicable Commission practice.
23. SIC does not ask the Presiding Officer to announce an across-the-board waiver rule for every conceivable late RFP objection. Federal practice generally treats untimely discovery objections as subject to waiver, but recognizes that privilege, statutory nondisclosure requirements, protective-order issues, or other overriding protections may require separate treatment. See, e.g., In re United States, 864 F.2d 1153, 1156 (5th Cir. 1989). At minimum, Daynamez should not be permitted to convert silence into an indefinite extension. Any late objection should identify the specific Request and basis and should be entertained only to the extent the Presiding Officer determines that the circumstances justify doing so. Otherwise, the written response and responsive production should be ordered without further delay.

VI. THE EFFECT OF RULE 502.147(a)(3) ON THE UNANSWERED SECOND REQUESTS FOR ADMISSION

24. The Commission's rule is self-executing. Because no timely written answer or objection was served, matters within the permissible scope of Rule 502.147(a)(1) are admitted by operation of Rule 502.147(a)(3), subject to the Presiding Officer's authority under Rule 502.147(b) to permit withdrawal or amendment on a proper motion. SIC does not seek an order compelling responses to the Second RFAs. SIC preserves its right to rely on timely-unanswered matters admitted by operation of the Rule, subject to any motion Daynamez may file under Rule 502.147(b). No adjudication of the ultimate merits, evidentiary weight, or admissibility of those matters is requested through this Motion.
25. For present motion practice, SIC does not rely on RFA No. 73 or RFA No. 103 as affirmative predicates for requested relief. RFA No. 73 contains an internal aggregation issue in the served wording concerning the identified payment range and total. RFA No. 103 substantially overlaps RFA No. 110 within the Second Set. Omitting those two Requests from the propositions on which SIC affirmatively relies in this Motion avoids collateral disputes without withdrawing, amending, or re-serving either Request. SIC otherwise asks only that Rule 502.147(a)(3) be applied according to its terms to timely-unanswered Second RFAs within the scope of Rule 502.147(a)(1), subject to any later motion under Rule 502.147(b).

VII. THE REQUESTED ORDER CAN AND SHOULD AVOID DUPLICATING DKT. 41

26. SIC has framed the Second Discovery and this Motion to avoid re-litigating Dkt. 41. The Second Discovery sets expressly preserve the First Discovery dispute while remaining separate from it. The Second RFPs also contain Instruction No. 5, which eliminates unnecessary re-production when Daynamez identifies an exact Bates range and confirms that its prior production is complete for the specific Request. This is materially narrower than demanding the same document twice.
27. To remove any remaining overlap concern, SIC narrows the relief requested here as to Second Interrogatory No. 41 and Second RFP Nos. 31, 32, 33, 39, and 46. For those requests, SIC seeks only request-specific information or material not already encompassed by the relief pending in Dkt. 41. SIC does not seek a second order requiring production of an identical document, identical source file, identical custodian/search information, or identical payment record already placed before the Presiding Officer in Dkt. 41. If the same document has already been completely produced, an exact Bates citation and confirmation of completeness is sufficient under Second RFP Instruction No. 5, subject to any distinct request for a source/native/complete version that has not been produced.
28. That limitation is consistent with Rules 502.69(d) and 502.141(e)(2): it prevents a repetitious motion and avoids unreasonably cumulative discovery while preserving the genuinely separate consequences of Daynamez's failure to respond to the Second Written Discovery.

VIII. EXPEDITED BRIEFING AND LIMITED SCHEDULE RELIEF ARE WARRANTED

29. Good cause exists to shorten Daynamez's response time under Rules 502.102 and 502.105. The discovery deadline is August 24, 2026. The ordinary response period for this motion to compel is seven days under Rules 502.71(b) and 502.150(a)(3). Rule 502.102(c) separately provides that a response to a motion filed under § 502.102 must be served and filed within five days. Because SIC includes its request to reduce time within this Motion to Compel, Part 502 does not expressly specify which response period governs the combined filing. Rule 502.105 authorizes the Presiding Officer, for good cause, to reduce any Part 502 time limit further. If this Motion is served on August 17, the seven-day period reaches the discovery cutoff itself, while a five-day period would leave only two days before the cutoff. The issue requiring immediate attention is narrow: whether Daynamez may remain completely silent after the response deadline to properly served discovery and still postpone the consequences until after discovery closes. A three-calendar-day response period gives Daynamez a meaningful opportunity to explain any claimed extension, service issue, protective-order position, good-cause basis for late objections, or other defense to the requested order, while leaving the Presiding Officer time to act before or near the cutoff.
30. SIC is not requesting a wholesale reopening of discovery or an alteration of the merits briefing schedule. If the resulting order is entered after August 24, or if compliance reasonably must occur after that date, SIC requests only such limited modification of Dkt. 33 as is necessary to permit Daynamez to comply with the order and to permit narrowly tailored follow-up concerning information or material first disclosed through that compelled compliance. Any broader extension can be addressed only upon a further showing if it later becomes necessary.
31. SIC also does not presently request terminating sanctions, default, striking of defenses, or evidentiary preclusion. Rule 502.150(b) addresses sanctions for failure to obey an order compelling discovery. SIC reserves the right to seek appropriate relief under that provision only if Daynamez fails to comply with the resulting order or later-developed facts warrant such relief.

IX. REQUESTED RELIEF

For the foregoing reasons, SIC respectfully requests that the Presiding Officer enter an expedited order:

- directing Daynamez, within three calendar days after service of the order or such other short period as the Presiding Officer sets, to serve complete, separately stated, signed, and verified answers to SIC's Second Interrogatories Nos. 19–45 to the extent enforceable;
- applying 46 C.F.R. § 502.145(b)(4) according to its terms to grounds for objection to the Second Interrogatories not timely stated, unless Daynamez demonstrates good cause for excuse, and finding that Daynamez's failure to timely raise numerosity substantially supports waiver of that objection, subject to the Presiding Officer's good-cause and discovery-management discretion;

- to the extent the Presiding Officer determines that any Second Interrogatory exceeds the numerical limit in Rule 502.145(a)(1), granting SIC leave for the additional interrogatory or interrogatories consistent with Rule 502.141(e)(2), or, if leave is not granted as to all additional interrogatories, permitting SIC to designate within one business day of the Order the Second Interrogatories it elects to pursue within the permissible cumulative count and compelling those interrogatories;
- directing Daynamez, within three calendar days after service of the order, to serve a complete written response to each Second Request for Production No. 31–48 and, within five calendar days after service of the order or on another date-certain schedule set by the Presiding Officer, to complete responsive nonprivileged production, and to provide an adequate privilege log for any otherwise responsive material withheld on a claim of privilege or protection;
- providing that, for Second Interrogatory No. 41 and Second RFP Nos. 31, 32, 33, 39, and 46, the ordered relief excludes identical information or material already encompassed by the relief pending in Dkt. 41, and that documents already completely produced may be identified by exact Bates range consistent with Second RFP Instruction No. 5;
- confirming that, assuming valid July 14 service and no applicable extension, Rule 502.147(a)(3) applies according to its terms to timely-unanswered matters within the scope of Rule 502.147(a)(1), without compelling RFA responses or adjudicating the ultimate merits, evidentiary weight, or admissibility of those matters, and subject to any motion by Daynamez under Rule 502.147(b);
- reducing Daynamez's time to respond to this Motion to three calendar days after service, or such other shortened period as the Presiding Officer deems appropriate, pursuant to 46 C.F.R. §§ 502.102 and 502.105;
- to the extent necessary, modifying Dkt. 33 only to permit compliance with the resulting order and narrowly tailored follow-up concerning information or materials first disclosed through compelled compliance, without altering the merits briefing schedule absent further order; and
- granting such other and further relief as the Presiding Officer deems just and appropriate.
