

BEFORE THE FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

DOCKET NO. 26-02

NANCY PRIOR,

Complainant,

v.

AMOOV GROUP, AIR 7 SEAS TRANSPORT LOGISTICS INC., AND

FREIGHTLEAD LLC,

Respondents.

COMPLAINANT’S MOTION TO COMPEL RESPONSES TO FIRST SET OF DISCOVERY REQUESTS FROM RESPONDENT FREIGHTLEAD LLC

Complainant Nancy Prior, proceeding pro se, respectfully moves this Commission pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.141 for an Order compelling Respondent FreightLead LLC (“FreightLead”) to provide complete, procedurally compliant, and signed responses to Complainant’s First Set of Interrogatories and First Set of Requests for Production of Documents.

In support of this Motion, Complainant states as follows:

I. PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND CERTIFICATE OF GOOD FAITH CONFERENCE

1. On April 27, 2026, Complainant properly served her First Set of Discovery Requests (Interrogatories and Requests for Production) on Respondents. Responses were due on May 27, 2026. (See Exhibit A).

2. On Friday, May 29, 2026, at 4:56 PM ET, Respondent FreightLead LLC served its initial discovery responses via email. (See Exhibit B).
3. Upon review, Complainant noted procedural deficiencies in FreightLead's responses, including procedurally deficient objections asserted under oath and the absence of a signed, itemized written response to the Requests for Production. (See Exhibit B).
4. On May 30, 2026, pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(j), Complainant initiated a good-faith meet-and-confer process by email, identifying the procedural deficiencies in Respondent's discovery responses and requesting that they be cured by June 1, 2026. (See Exhibit C).
5. On June 1, 2026, counsel for FreightLead responded. Rather than curing the identified deficiencies, Respondent requested that Complainant provide additional specificity regarding the objections and factual inconsistencies identified in her correspondence. Respondent also attached several files consisting of previously produced email strings and image files under different file names, rather than a signed, itemized response addressing each numbered Request for Production. (See Exhibit C).
6. Rule 502.141(j) Certificate: Complainant hereby certifies that she has in good faith conferred with Respondent through written correspondence in an effort to resolve these discovery issues without Commission intervention. Despite those efforts, Respondent has not cured the deficiencies identified by Complainant, including the failure to serve a procedurally compliant written response to the Requests for Production. The parties are therefore at an impasse, making Commission intervention necessary.

II. LAW AND ARGUMENT

A. Respondent Has Failed to Serve a Proper Written Response to Requests for Production

Commission Rule 46 C.F.R. § 502.141 requires a responding party to serve a formal, signed, and itemized written response to every numbered Request for Production, stating clearly whether inspection and related activities will be permitted as requested, or stating a specific objection with supporting grounds.

FreightLead omitted this required document from its initial production on May 29, 2026. In subsequent correspondence on June 1, 2026, Respondent acknowledged that a purported response to the Requests for Production had been omitted and represented that it was attached to the email (see Exhibit C). However, the June 1 attachments merely re-served previously produced documents under different file names and did not provide a signed, itemized response addressing each numbered Request for Production. To date, FreightLead has not served a procedurally compliant written response stating what documents are being produced, what documents are being withheld, or the basis for any objections.

B. Respondent Has Failed to Assert Procedurally Valid Objections Under Oath

Under standard Commission discovery procedures, objections to interrogatories must be explicitly asserted by the responding party and must state a clear legal basis. In its responses to Complainant's First Set of Interrogatories, FreightLead repeatedly entered the phrase "Complainant objects" directly under its sworn answers (see Exhibit B).

By identifying the Complainant as the objecting party rather than the Respondent, these statements fail to assert any valid legal objections on behalf of the responding entity. A respondent cannot assert objections on behalf of the Complainant. Because these generalized entries do not state a valid legal basis on behalf of the Respondent, they are procedurally deficient and fail to satisfy the requirement to fully answer under oath.

C. Respondent's Answers Contain Unresolved Inconsistencies Requiring Clarification

Under Commission rules, a party answering discovery must provide complete and non-evasive answers based on the knowledge available to the corporation. In its interrogatory answers, FreightLead denied operational involvement or direct knowledge regarding the withholding of Complainant's household goods.

However, FreightLead's concurrent document production appears inconsistent with portions of these responses. Specifically, a produced email thread dated December 24, 2025, shows FreightLead's Director of Operations and Pricing, Maya Ozge Akdogan, actively communicating with co-respondent Air 7 Seas regarding the ongoing storage fees and explicitly stating, "This issue will give your company and my company a big headache." (see Exhibit D).

Complainant requested that Respondent clarify and reconcile its sworn answers with the facts established in its own produced corporate records, but Respondent declined to address the inconsistency, demanding instead that Complainant outline the conflict with specificity. Because these corporate records raise substantial questions regarding the completeness of Respondent's knowledge and involvement, clarification is warranted under the discovery rules.

III. CONCLUSION AND RELIEF SOUGHT

Because Respondent FreightLead LLC has failed to provide an independent, signed written response to the Requests for Production, and has declined to cure the facial deficiencies and factual inconsistencies in its Interrogatory responses, Complainant is unable to properly proceed with discovery.

WHEREFORE, Complainant Nancy Prior respectfully requests that the Commission:

1. GRANT this Motion to Compel;
2. ORDER Respondent FreightLead LLC to serve a formal, signed, itemized written response to Complainant's First Set of Requests for Production within seven (7) days;
3. ORDER Respondent FreightLead LLC to amend its Interrogatory responses to remove all procedurally deficient objections and fully reconcile its answers with the corporate records produced in this matter; and
4. GRANT any such further relief as the Commission deems just and proper.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Nancy Prior

RESPONDENT.

RESPONDENT'S RESPONSE TO COMPLAINANT'S FIRST INTEROGATORY REQUESTS

Pursuant to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, Respondent Freightlead submits the following Responses to Complainant's First Set of Interrogatories.

General Objections:

Respondent makes these general objections to Complainant's Request for Production of Documents as overly broad, cumulative of other requests, unduly burdensome, and disproportionate to the issues in this action as provided in Rules 141(e)(2)(ii)(A) and (C), 46 C.F.R. §502.141(e)(2)(ii)(A) and (C). Complainant also objects to this request as its breadth would encompass documents and things outside of Complainant's custody or control and documents and things protected by the attorney client and attorney work client privileges. Complainant objects to this request as it is irrelevant and not reasonably calculated to lead to admissible evidence as required by Section 502.145(e). Finally, complainant objects as it seeks documents already in respondent's possession.

Notwithstanding and without waiving the foregoing objections, Complainant is conducting a reasonable search for responsive documents within its "possession, custody or control" and will provide non-privileged responsive documents and reserves the right to amend these responses.

Respondent reserves its rights to object and objects to authenticity, relevance or admissibility, subject matter and personal jurisdiction, and other general objections.

SPECIFIC OBJECTIONS AND RESPONSES:

INTERROGATORY NO. 2: Identify all members of the "Finance Team" and "Management" involved in the communications and decision-making regarding the withholding of the Complainant's shipment between November 2025 and December. Provide their full names, job titles, and specific roles in authorizing the payment demands made to the Complainant.

Notwithstanding and without waiving this objection and in good faith attempt to respond, Complainant responds that, it does not have the information regarding "all members of the "Finance Team" and "Management" involved in the communications and decision-making regarding the withholding of the Complainant's shipment between November 2025 and December." Answering further, Respondent Freightlead was not responsible for withholding of Complainant's shipment between November 2025 and December," or at any time. 2025. Provide their full names, job titles, and specific roles in authorizing the payment demands made to the Complainant.

INTERROGATORY NO. 3: Identify the Freightlead staff member who was present at the Parsippany office on November 13, 2025, and who permitted the Complainant's witness to photograph the internal carrier note.

Notwithstanding and without waving this objection and in good faith attempt to respond, Complainant identifies Mr. Aras Kaya as the Freightlead staff member who was present at the Parsippany office on November 13, 2025.

INTERROGATORY NO. 4: State the exact factual and legal basis for the demand of $22,580.00 issued to the Complainant on December 16, 2025. Provide an itemized breakdown of how this figure was calculated, including specific invoice numbers or ledger entries that comprise this total.

Notwithstanding and without waiving this objection, Complainant responds that Banu Pyrose appears to be an employee of Air 7 Seas. [Complainant's Note: The attachments received with this email consisted of previously produced materials under different file names and did not include a formal, itemized response to the Requests for Production.]

Dear Ms. Prior: The following is in response to your email received this past Saturday. Please note that “meet and confer” under FMC and FRCP rules does not mean your self-imposed deadlines. We attempted in good faith to get you’re a response by June 1, 2026, which we did by COB last Friday, May 29, 2026. As reflected below—we inadvertently left out an attachment regarding the response to the RFP’s—which we attach hereto. Please see below responses to your sat. email:

Unsupported Objections: Your general and specific responses fail to assert legally valid objections on behalf of the Respondent Response: I believe the General Objections are applicable and appropriate. Please identify with specificity which part of the objections are “illegally invalid.”

Failure to Answer Requests for Production: Respondent has not served written responses or objections to Complainant's First Set of Requests for Production of Documents. Response: Please see attached.

Factual Inconsistencies: Your written answers are factually inconsistent with your concurrent production of documents. Response: Please identify with specificity which part of Freightlead's "written answers are factually inconsistent with your concurrent production of documents."

Please review the above and let me know when a good is to meet and confer to discuss the above any other discovery issues. I'm available this Wednesday and Thursday and Friday morning.
