

BEFORE THE
FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

DOCKET NO. 26-02

NANCY PRIOR

COMPLAINANT,

v.

AMOOV GROUP, FREIGHTLEAD LLC, AIR 7 SEAS
TRANSPORT LOGISTICS, INC.

RESPONDENT.

RESPONDENT FREIGHTLEAD'S REPLY AND OPPOSITION TO COMPLAINANT'S MOTION TO COMPEL

Respondent Freightlead LLC ("Respondent" or "Freightlead"), pursuant to 46 CFR 502.files this reply and to opposition Complainant's Motion to Compel ("MTC"). For the following reasons, Complainant's MTC should be denied and an order directing Complainant to confer in good faith before filing unnecessary motions.

Introduction and Procedural History

- On May 29, 2026, Respondent FL provided in good faith a response to Complainant's first set of interrogatories and request for production of documents ("RFP").
- On Saturday afternoon, May 30, 2026, Complainant sent another email and referring to it as a "meet and confer" and demanded a response by COB Monday June 1, 2026. Complainant did not call or include in its email an invitation and/or an opportunity to confer.

- On June 1, 2026, Respondent's counsel emailed Complainant and stated that "meet and confer" under FMC and FRCP rules does not mean self-imposed deadlines. Further, Respondents counsel advised Complainant that Respondent, in good faith, provided discovery responses by June 1, 2026. Respondent provided an attachment containing RFP responses, inadvertently left out in its prior submission.
- In the same June 1, 2026, email, Respondents counsel responded to Complainant's allegations that Respondent's discovery responses and objections were deficient. Respondent stated that it believed its General Objections are applicable and appropriate, and requested Complainant to identify with specificity which part of the objections are "illegally invalid." Complainant did not respond.
- Complainant was also requested to identify with specificity which part of Freightlead's "written answers are factually inconsistent with [your] concurrent production of documents." Complainant did not respond.
- Finally, on June 1, 2026, Respondent requested from Complainant a good time is to meet and confer to discuss the above any other discovery issues and provided available dates and time. Complainant did not respond and instead filed a MTC.

Freightlead's Reply and Opposition to Complainant's Motion to Compel

Respondent FL respectfully submits that it has attempted, in good faith, to resolve any discovery disputes with Complainant. Respondent requested the identity of the deficiencies alleged by Complainant but instead of Complainants outreach to conferring good faith to resolve the discovery issues, Complainant resorted to this motion to compel.

As stated in Respondent's pending Motion to Dismiss, Respondent played a very limited role in acting as a destination agent notify party in assisting with post ocean transportation services of Complainant's shipment. As a result, it has limited documents, which it has produced to Complainant. Complainant was requested to identify what, how, if any, documents or category thereof of Respondent's RFP Response were deficient, but Complainant has failed to do so.

Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, Complainant's Motion to Compel should be denied and Complainant directed to meet and confer in good faith as required by Commission Rules of Practice and Procedures, § 502. 150 (a)(1).
