

BEFORE THE FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

DOCKET NO. 26-02

NANCY PRIOR,

Complainant,

v.

AMOOV GROUP, FREIGHTLEAD LLC, and AIR 7 SEAS TRANSPORT LOGISTICS, INC.,

Respondents.

COMPLAINANT'S REPLY TO RESPONDENT FREIGHTLEAD LLC'S OPPOSITION TO MOTION TO COMPEL AND REQUEST FOR SANCTIONS

Complainant Nancy Prior, proceeding pro se, respectfully submits this Reply to Respondent FreightLead LLC's Opposition to Complainant's Motion to Compel ("Opposition").

I. The procedural record refutes Respondent's Opposition

Respondent's Opposition asserts that Complainant filed her Motion to Compel without first conferring in good faith. The documentary record establishes otherwise.

Prior to serving discovery requests, Complainant complied with Instruction 16 of the Initial Order and 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(i) by filing a unilateral Status Report and Request for Discovery Conference on April 2, 2026. The parties were unable to reach agreement on the language of a joint status report, necessitating a unilateral filing. Complainant's filing documented the discovery dispute, her efforts to resolve it informally, and her availability for a conference. No conference was scheduled by the Commission.

Complainant thereafter proceeded with discovery and served her First Set of Interrogatories and First Set of Requests for Production of Documents (RFPs) on April 27, 2026, providing Respondent with the full 30-day regulatory period to respond. (Exhibit A)

The relevant meet-and-confer sequence following service of discovery is as follows:

- May 27, 2026: Respondent's discovery responses were due pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.141. No responses were served.
- May 28, 2026: Complainant served a formal meet-and-confer notice pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(j), identifying Respondent's total discovery default and providing until June 1, 2026 at 5:00 PM ET to comply. (Exhibit B)
- May 29, 2026: Respondent served discovery responses two days after the deadline. (Exhibit C)
- May 30, 2026: Complainant served a second written communication identifying three specific deficiencies in Respondent's late responses. (Exhibit D)
- June 1, 2026: Respondent responded to Complainant's meet-and-confer notice and represented that a response to Complainant's First Set of Requests for Production was attached. However, the attachments consisted of previously produced documents re-served under different filenames and did not constitute a signed, itemized written response addressing each numbered Request for Production as required by 46 C.F.R. § 502.146. The identified deficiencies therefore remained uncured. (Exhibit E.)
- June 2, 2026: Complainant filed her Motion to Compel.

Complainant satisfied her obligations under Instruction 16 of the Initial Order and her meet-and-confer obligations under 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(j) prior to filing.

II. Written conferral satisfies the Commission's rules

Respondent's Opposition implies that Complainant was required to confer by telephone. 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(j) requires only that the parties attempt to resolve discovery disputes informally. The rule does not mandate telephonic communication. Complainant's written correspondence of May 28, 2026 and May 30, 2026 satisfies this requirement. (See Exhibits B and D)

III. The identified deficiencies were stated with specificity

Respondent's Opposition contends that Complainant failed to identify the alleged deficiencies with sufficient specificity. The record does not support this contention.

Complainant's May 30, 2026 correspondence identified three discrete deficiencies by category: procedurally deficient objections, failure to serve a written response to Requests for Production, and factual inconsistencies between Respondent's sworn answers and its concurrent document production. Respondent received this correspondence on May 30, 2026, had until June 1, 2026 to cure the identified deficiencies, and did not do so. (See Exhibit D)

IV. Request for sanctions

Pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.150(b), Complainant respectfully requests that the Commission impose sanctions on the following grounds:

1. Respondent served discovery responses two days after the deadline established under 46 C.F.R. § 502.141, without explanation or request for extension;

2. Respondent's General Objections, incorporated by reference into each specific response, attribute the objecting party as "Complainant" rather than Respondent, rendering all such objections procedurally deficient under 46 C.F.R. § 502.141;
3. Respondent failed to serve a procedurally compliant written response to Complainant's First Set of Requests for Production of Documents in its initial May 29, 2026 production, as required by 46 C.F.R. § 502.146, and Respondent's subsequent June 1, 2026 submission did not cure this deficiency, consisting only of previously produced documents re-served under different filenames rather than a signed, itemized written response addressing each numbered Request for Production; and
4. Respondent's Opposition misrepresents the meet-and-confer record to this Commission.

Complainant requests that the Commission strike Respondent's procedurally deficient objections, deem facts regarding Respondent's operational involvement established as claimed by Complainant pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.150(b)(1), and grant such further relief as the Commission deems just and proper.

V. Conclusion

Complainant satisfied her obligations under the Initial Order and Commission rules, identified the discovery deficiencies with specificity in writing, and filed her Motion to Compel only after Respondent failed to cure those deficiencies by the stated deadline. Respondent's Opposition does not cure the deficiencies identified in Complainant's Motion to Compel and does not provide a legally sufficient basis for denial. Complainant's Motion to Compel should be granted and sanctions imposed.

Respectfully submitted,

No. 26-02

Dear Mr. Gonzalez,

I am in receipt of Respondent FreightLead LLC's responses to Complainant's First Set of Interrogatories, served via email at 4:56 PM on Friday, May 29, 2026.

Pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(j), please consider this correspondence my formal effort to meet and confer regarding unsupported objections, a failure to answer requests for production, and factual inconsistencies in your client's production. Specifically:

Unsupported Objections: Your general and specific responses fail to assert legally valid objections on behalf of the Respondent.

Failure to Answer Requests for Production: Respondent has not served written responses or objections to Complainant's First Set of Requests for Production of Documents.

Factual Inconsistencies: Your written answers are factually inconsistent with your concurrent production of documents.

To avoid the necessity of Commission intervention, please provide a corrected, complete set of Interrogatory responses and your mandatory written responses to the Requests for Production by Monday, June 1, 2026, at 5:00 PM ET.

If these incomplete responses and omissions are not cured by the deadline, I will consider the parties at an impasse, our meet-and-confer obligations satisfied, and will proceed immediately with a Motion to Compel.

Without Prejudice

Dear Ms. Prior:

The following is in response to your email received this past Saturday. Please note that “meet and confer” under FMC and FRCP rules does not mean your self-imposed deadlines. We attempted in good faith to get you’re a response by June 1, 2026, which we did by COB last Friday, May 29, 2026. As reflected below—we inadvertently left out an attachment regarding the response to the RFP’s—which we attach hereto. Please see below responses to your sat. email:

Unsupported Objections: Your general and specific responses fail to assert legally valid objections on behalf of the Respondent

Response: I believe the General Objections are applicable and appropriate. Please identify with specificity which part of the objections are “illegally invalid.”

Failure to Answer Requests for Production: Respondent has not served written responses or objections to Complainant's First Set of Requests for Production of Documents.

Response: Please see attached.

Factual Inconsistencies: Your written answers are factually inconsistent with your concurrent production of documents.

Response: Please identify with specificity which part of Freightlead’s “written answers are factually inconsistent with your concurrent production of documents.”

Please review the above and let me know when a good is to meet and confer to discuss the above any other discovery issues. I’m available this Wednesday and Thursday and Friday morning.
