Office of Administrative Law Judges

WAY2GO CARGO CORP., Complainant

v.

OAK WAY CARGO, LLC, Respondent.

DOCKET NO. 25-14

Served: November 20, 2025

ORDER OF: Richard AMBROW, Administrative Law Judge.

SCHEDULING ORDER

On November 19, 2025, the parties filed a Joint Status Report and Proposed Discovery Schedule. In it, the parties indicate that they made initial disclosures on October 6, 2025, and are in the process of reaching out to CADRS. The discovery schedule proposed by the parties completes all discovery on February 26, 2026, within five months of service of Respondent's answer on September 29, 2025. The parties' proposed schedule is reasonable and complies with Commission rule. (46 C.F.R. § 502.141(g)). The agreed-upon discovery schedule is below.

To make the discovery process more efficient, the parties are encouraged to agree to limitations on discovery and stipulations of facts. The parties are also encouraged to review the Initial Order for instructions related to confidential information. For example, parties may not mark entire depositions as confidential, so they should ask questions that may require confidential responses together, typically at the end of the deposition.

Under normal circumstances, cases such as these are resolved following briefing, and the parties have proposed a briefing schedule. I have set forth the agreed-upon briefing schedule below. Complainant requested that a virtual hearing be held in the matter. (See Complaint, at 7). Pursuant to 46 C.F.R. § 502.62(a)(5), "[t]he presiding officer will determine whether an oral hearing is necessary." At this point in the proceeding, it is not clear that there is reason to conduct a virtual hearing – accordingly, the Complainant's request is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

The parties must issue all discovery requests and schedule depositions in time to complete fact discovery on the date the parties requested. The parties are hereby ORDERED to follow this schedule:

February 5, 2025	Complete Fact Discovery
February 12, 2026	Disclosure-Initial Expert Reports
February 19, 2026	Disclosure-Rebuttal Expert Reports
February 26, 2026	Complete Expert Depositions

February 26, 2026	Close of discovery and completion of depositions (if any)
April 10, 2026	Complainant's brief, proposed findings of fact, and appendix.
May 1, 2026	Respondent's Opposition Brief, Response to Proposed Findings of Fact, Proposed Findings of Fact, and Appendix
May 15, 2026	Complainant's Reply Brief and Responses to Proposed Findings of Fact

The parties are reminded that a “scheduling order ‘is not a frivolous piece of paper, idly entered, which can be cavalierly disregarded by counsel without peril.’” (Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 610 (9th Cir. 1992) (quoting Gestetner Corp. v. Case Equipment Co., 108 F.R.D. 138, 141 (D. Me. 1985))). Moreover, “[p]arties cannot control an agency’s docket or procedures through agreement among themselves.” (Simmons v. United States, 698 F.2d 888, 893 (7th Cir. 1983)). The authority of courts to control their dockets is well settled. (Link v. Wabash Railroad Co., 370 U.S. 626, 630-31 (1962); United States v. Hughey, 147 F.3d 423, 429 (5th Cir. 1998)).

Motions will not automatically stay other deadlines in the proceeding. If a motion could impact other deadlines, that should be clearly addressed in the motion and any response. All requests for extension of time will be reviewed for good cause, even if the parties agree on the requested extension.

Parties must follow the instructions in the Initial Order, including the requirements for submitting confidential information. Parties may be required to refile any documents that do not follow the requirements above or in the Initial Order.

The parties are directed to consult with each other to determine the most practicable way to send electronic copies of documents in a word-processing format to each other. The parties are directed to email the electronic copy in a word-processing format of required documents to the Office of Administrative Law Judges at the following email address: judges@fmc.gov, with opposing counsel copied. Word-processing versions should not be submitted to the Office of the Secretary.
