DOCKET NO. 16-17

CONNIE LANE CHRISTY and CHRISTY COLLECTION INTERNATIONAL INC. on

v.

AIR 7 SEAS TRANSPORT LOGISTICS INC.

RESPONDENT AIR 7 SEAS TRANSPORT LOGISTICS INC.'S MOTION TO DISMISS COMPLAINT IN LIEU OF ANSWER; OR, IN THE ALTERNATIVE, MOTION FOR A MORE DEFINITE STATEMENT

Pursuant to Rules 12 and 72(b) of the Federal Maritime Commission ("Commission") Rules of Practice and Procedure, 46 C.F.R. §§ 502.12 and 502.72(b), and Rules 12(b)(1) and (6) and 17(a) and (b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Respondent Air 7 Seas Transport Logistics, Inc. ("Air 7") moves to dismiss the complaint filed on November 15, 2016 ("Complaint"). Alternatively, Air 7 seeks an order for a more definite statement pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(e) and 46 C.F.R. § 502.67.

The Complaint identifies Connie Lane Christy ("CLC"), as "President" of Christy Collection International, Inc. ("CCI") acting for and on behalf of The Annie Grace Foundation for the Children of Bali Indonesia ("AGFC"). See Exhibit A, pages 1 & 2. Based on the representations of CLC in the Complaint, the owner of the cargo is AGFC, not CLC, and CLC is acting as an agent for and on behalf of AGFC. Accordingly, the Complaint fails to meet the applicable thresholds for stating a cause of action under the Shipping Act, the Commission's Rules of Procedure and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and should be dismissed for two reasons:

1. The Complaint fails to meet the Commission's rules of practice under 46 C.F.R. §502.6(b) and 46 C.F.R. §502.62 (3)(a)(ii) and (v). Moreover, the Complaint does not meet the minimum pleading standards set forth in Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007) and Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 663 (2009) (explicitly adopted by the Commission in Maher Terminals v. The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, FMC Dkt. 12-02 (Dec. 18, 2015), slip opinion at 15-16);
2. Complainants lack the necessary legal capacity to file a claim under the Shipping Act.

In the alternative, because the Complaint does not provide a consistent set of legal or factual allegations to which Air 7 can provide a response, Air 7 moves for a more definite statement pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(e) and § 502.67, “If a pleading ... to which a responsive pleading is permitted is so vague or ambiguous that a party cannot reasonably prepare a response, the party may move for a more definite statement before filing a responsive pleading.”

I. STANDARD OF REVIEW FOR MOTION TO DISMISS

Under Rule 12 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, the Commission follows the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure in instances that are not expressly covered by the Commission's Rules and to the extent that application of the Federal Rules is consistent with sound administrative practice. 46 C.F.R. § 502.12. As the Commission's Rules do not address motions to dismiss, the Federal Rules apply in this case. Mitsui O.S.K. Lines, Ltd v. Global Link Logistics, Inc. et al., 2011 WL 7144008, *11 (FMC: Served Aug. 1, 2011) (citing The Lake Charles Harbor and Terminal District v. West Cameron Port, Harbor and Terminal District, 2007 WL 2468431 (FMC: Served Aug. 2, 2007)).

To survive a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6), a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to “state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007). A claim “has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 663 (2009). However, a complaint should be dismissed if it does not “contain something more . . . than . . . a statement of facts that merely creates a suspicion [of] a legally cognizable right of action.” See C. Wright & A. Miller, Federal Practice and Procedure § 1216, pp. 235–236 (3d ed. 2004). As the U.S. Supreme Court has made clear: “A pleading that offers ‘labels and conclusions’ or ‘a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.’” Iqbal, 129 S. Ct. at 1949 (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555). Moreover, courts “are not bound to accept as true a legal conclusion couched as a factual allegation.” Papasan v. Allain, 478 U.S. 265, 286 (1986).

Moreover, the capacity of a corporate litigant to sue or be sued in a federal court is controlled by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(a)(1), which provides that the claimant must be a real party in interest. Fed. R. Civ. P. 17(a)(1); see also International Association of NVOCC's et al. v. Atlantic Container Line et al., 1990 FMC LEXIS 5 (FMC: Served Jan. 25, 1990). Rule 17(b) provides that the capacity of a corporation to sue is determined “by the law under which it was organized.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 17(b)(2); see also Hills Motors, Inc. v. Hawaii Auto. Dealers' Ass'n, 997 F.2d 581, 584 (9th Cir. 1993).

II. ARGUMENT

1. THE COMPLAINT FAILS TO MEET THE COMMISSION’S RULES ON PRIVATE PARTY COMPLAINTS OR THE IQBAL AND TWOMBLY STANDARD

The Complaint violates several of the Commission Rules. First, the Complaint is not verified. 46 C.F.R. §502.6(b) states:

(b) If a party is not represented by a person admitted or qualified to practice before the Commission, each pleading, document or other paper of such party filed with the Commission shall be signed and verified under oath by the party or by a duly authorized officer or agent of the party, whose address and title shall be stated.

It is undisputed that CLC is neither an attorney nor qualified to practice before the Commission. The Complaint does not purport to be “verified,” and there is no signature under oath or penalty of perjury. Accordingly, the Complaint should be dismissed.

Second, to recover damages for a specific Shipping Act violation, Complainants must make “a recitation of the legal authority and jurisdiction for institution of the proceeding, with specific designation of the statutory provisions alleged to have been violated.” 46 C.F.R. § 502.62(3)(a)(ii). In the unverified Complaint, both CLC and CCI offer a series of inconsistent conclusory allegations without a single statutory citation, nor any allegations of pattern or practice. The Complaint is devoid of necessary legal authority and jurisdiction for institution of the proceeding, specifically designating the statutory provisions alleged to have been violated, making reference to the Shipping Act of 1984 (46 U.S.C. §§ 40101-41309) and specifically 46 U.S.C. Chapter 411. Without the required specificity, the Complaint should be dismissed.

Third, Complainants mistakenly cite the Commission’s definitions of “freight forwarder” and “service contracts” without identifying a time volume agreement, the ocean common carrier, etc. Respondent is left to speculate about an alleged oral or written contract or a “service contract,” and allegations about gross negligence and fraud. See Exhibit "A," page 6. Allegations of fraud must be plead with particularity. Fed. R. Civ. P. 9(b). Fraud requires particularity, that is, "pleading facts which show how, when, where, to whom, and by what means the representations were tendered." Stansfield v. Starkey (1990) 220 Cal.App.3d 59, 73; Lazar v. Superior Court (1996) 12 Cal.4th 631, 645. A Complaint that fails to specify the time, place, or content of the alleged fraudulent representations does not meet these requirements. United States ex rel. Karvelas v. Melrose-Wakefield Hosp., 360 F.3d 220, 223 (1st Cir. 2004). Air 7 should not be required to speculate about Complainants' use of labels and conclusions about "negligence" and "fraud." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 663 (2009).

Based on the foregoing, the Complaint is procedurally and legally flawed and should be dismissed.

2. COMPLAINANTS LACK THE NECESSARY LEGAL CAPACITY TO FILE A CLAIM UNDER THE SHIPPING ACT

According to the Complaint, the cargo is "261 pieces of used household goods and personal effects for said orphanage and school in Bali Indonesia" ("HHG"). See Exhibit A, pages 1 & 2. CLC identifies herself as “President, Christy Collection International, acting for and on behalf of The Annie Grace Foundation for the Children of Bali Indonesia” on CLC’s letter to the Commission dated October 27, 2016, enclosing “our” complaint. See Exhibit “A,” page 1 and 2.

CLC cannot act as a “duly authorized officer or agent” of either CCI or AGFC because both CCI or AGFC have ceased to exist as a matter of law. See CLC’s admission of corporate dissolution and deregistration dated January 10, 2017, attached hereto as Exhibit “B.” Complainants are bound by the admissions in their pleading. See Freedom Nat. Bank v. N. Ill. Corp, 202 F.2d 601, 605 (7th Cir. Ill. 1953). Accordingly, the Complaint should be dismissed.

CLC may argue that these entities can be revived, but this is not possible. According to the website of the South Carolina Secretary of State, CCI corporate status is “forfeit,” and subsequently “dissolved” on June 5, 2016. See Exhibit “C.” Under S.C. Code Ann. § 33-14-210 Article 2, a dissolved corporation “may not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs” and must do so “as expeditiously as practicable.”

Complainants failed to bring this action until more than two years after hiring Air 7 Seas and five months after CCI's dissolution, a delay that does not comport with the statutory mandate to wind up a dissolved corporation expeditiously. A Fast Photo Express, Inc. v. First Nat'l Bank of Chi., 369 S.C. 80, 89, 630 S.E.2d 285, 289, 2006 S.C. App. LEXIS 103, *14 (S.C. Ct. App. 2006). Moreover, Complainants present no evidence that this action is necessary to wind up or liquidate CCI's affairs. Accordingly, CCI cannot sue under the law of South Carolina and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17.

Similarly, AGFC is a deregistered Australian entity. According to the website of the Australian Government the corporate status is "deregistered." See Exhibit "D." Under Australia's Corporations Act 2001 - Sect 601AD, a deregistered company is a "non-existent person" with no legal status and is no longer "capable of suing and being sued." Morton v Mitchell Products [1996] Federal Court of Australia 828 (18 September 1996). Australian courts will not allow an action brought by a non-existent person to proceed. Id. AGFC cannot sue under the law of Australia and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17.

Based on the foregoing, neither CCI or AGFC are proper parties and the Complaint must be dismissed as a matter of law.

III.

A MORE DEFINITE STATEMENT IS REQUIRED BECAUSE THE COMPLAINT IS VAGUE AND AMBIGUOUS

The Complaint does not provide an intelligible argument or a consistent set of allegations to which Air 7 can provide a response. Accordingly, Air 7 moves for a more definite statement pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(e) and 46 C.F.R. § 502.67, "If a pleading (including a complaint, counterclaim, crossclaim, or third-party complaint filed pursuant to §502.62) to which a responsive pleading is permitted is so vague or ambiguous that a party cannot reasonably prepare a response, the party may move for a more definite statement before filing a responsive pleading." The current rule requires a "clear and concise factual statement sufficient to inform each respondent with reasonable definiteness of the acts or practices alleged to be in violation of the law, and a statement showing that the complainant is entitled to relief." 46 C.F.R. § 502.62(a)(3)(iii); Maier Terminals, LLC v. The Port Authority Of New York And New Jersey, 2015 FMC LEXIS 43 *31 (FMC: Served December 18, 2015). The Commission may also sua sponte require a complaint to be amended if it fails clearly to state facts which support the allegations, which is the case here. Id.

The Complaint is a jumble of non-existent parties, regulatory definitions, speculation and conclusion concerning Air 7's allegedly negligent and fraudulent acts. As written, it is impossible for Air 7 Seas to respond. Accordingly, Air 7 Seas requests that the Commission enter an order requiring an amended Complaint that: 1. Indicates the sections of the Shipping Act Air 7 is said to have violated; and 2. Clearly states facts which support the allegations.

IV. OBJECTIONS TO EVIDENCE

Complainants' Appendix consists of unauthenticated documents and contains no testimonial evidence either laying a foundation for the admission of such documents or independently substantiating the alleged violations by Respondent including, without limitation, proof of payment of commercial invoices issued by third-parties. The Commission should exclude Complainant's Appendix pursuant to Commission Rule 156 and 5 U.S.C. § 556(d); 46 C.F.R. § 502.7, and 46 C.F.R. § 502.156.

V. CONCLUSION

The Complaint fails to meet the applicable thresholds for stating a cause of action under the Shipping Act, the Commission's Rules of Procedure and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. It is impossible to determine from the Complaint which statute, if any, could have been violated, and what patterns or practices allegedly violate which parts of the Shipping Act. Complainants have no capacity to sue because two of the Complainants are nonexistent, while Complainants admit that they have suffered no injury in fact. Based on the foregoing, the Complaint should be dismissed, or, in the alternative, the Commission should order Complainants to file a more definite statement.

Personal effects for said orphanage and school in Bali Indonesia.

Freight prepaid in full

The plaintiff hired Air 7 Seas (ocean freight forwarder) under a Service Contract to arrange shipment of said ocean freight through a Service Contract with MSC(ocean common carrier)

With payment in full received from plaintiff Connie Lane Christy for "door to door" service, or Through Transportation, as advertised on their website and stated by agent. Connie Lane Christy was to provide an address upon arrival when said accommodations were arranged in Bali Indonesia. The plaintiff was advised that all arrangements for receipt of goods in Indonesia would be arranged, and included by Air 7 Seas. The goods would arrive at The address provided by the plaintiff within 26 days of leaving Charleston South Carolina. Time may be needed in Indonesia to arrange release by customs and trucking to the location To be determined upon the plaintiffs arrival in Indonesia. But not an unreasonable time.

Insurance for the shipment was arranged through Air 7 Seas, and paid for in addition to the Service Contract by the plaintiff. A total list of contents was given to Air 7 Seas to detail out all that the shipment contained for insurance purposes. A total of 261 pieces was on board the container. All contained in plastic totes, and or wrapped in packing material and shrink wrapped. The plastic totes were palletized for ease of handling by fork lift unloading.

On or about 5/15/2016 Connie Lane Christy contacted Air 7 Seas by email advising of her location in Tanjung Benoa Bali Indonesia as the "ship to" address for "door to door" service of the shipment, detailed in her Service Contract for through transportation.

On or about 6/30/2016 the plaintiff contacted Air 7 Seas to acquire location of the shipment. She was advised that the shipment was enroute to Surabaya Indonesia and she would have to arrange transport to Bali Indonesia. She stated that this was not the contracted means of receipt of the shipment. She received no response to repeated emails to Air 7 Seas about the whereabouts of her shipment and when they would complete the Service Contract with Through Transportation and deliver the goods to her.

After two months of repeated emails, the plaintiff called the office of Air 7 Seas. She was informed by a clerk that she would have to contact MSC directly to find out any status update of her shipment. The plaintiff stated that her Service Contract was with Air 7 Seas and they were paid for through transportation, to deliver her shipment to her address in Bali. The clerk stated that they were not authorized to complete the Service Contract. They were not able to handle the customs documents or the trucking of the goods to her location in Bali. The plaintiff was instructed to " find an agent in Bali and bribe the Indonesian government to release your goods".

The plaintiff contacted Ryan Todd of MSC in Charleston South Carolina and asked about the status of her shipment. Ryan Todd instructed the plaintiff that they had not been paid by Air 7 Seas to ship the shipment and he could not release it until it was paid. The plaintiff stated that she had paid in full in a service contract for through transportation, for "door to door" service. Ryan Todd worked with Air 7 Seas to get them to release payment to him for their Service Contract with Air 7 Seas. They partially paid MSC about 1100 US dollars and instructed him to charge any remaining balance to Connie Lane Christy (the plaintiff). Ryan Todd instructed the plaintiff that she would have to pay MSC an additional 625.00 US dollars, to have the shipment released.

In the meantime Air 7 Seas demanded that the plaintiff pay them an additional sum of about 350.00 US dollars, and when that sum was received by them, they instructed the plaintiff that there were still additional sums due of about one thousand US dollars due to Air 7 Seas, to get the shipment released.

The plaintiff began calling and meeting with shipping agents in Bali to attempt to secure her shipment. She met with five agents and spoke with another twelve by phone. Every one of the agents instructed her that Air 7 Seas and MSC had to release the shipment to them before they could start their negotiations with the Indonesian Government, the receiving agents, And the taxation agents. They all stated that when this all occurred there would be substantial fees to bring the goods by truck / over a ferry from the island port of Surabaya / and then trucked to her destination in Bali. The lowest estimate for the Indonesian Government bribes, Taxation, and agent fees was 12,000 US dollars. The highest was 35,000 US dollars. All claimed to have inside people that could bribe the government and release the shipment. But none would guarantee it. The ferry and trucking costs would be in excess of 10,000 US dollars And their fees would be between 5,000 and 10,000 dollars US in addition. All charges would need to be paid up front and there was no guarantee of success.

One of the biggest problems for the release of the shipment by the Indonesian Government was that anyone immigrating to Indonesia must be in possession of a "KITAS" to receive any freight for their personal use. "KITAS" can only be issued by an employer in Indonesia. It is a form of work visa. Since the plaintiff was forming a non profit orphanage and school, no such company would ever exist to be able to issue this "KITAS". A "KITAS" could be purchased on the black market in Indonesia, which of course is illegal, but could be obtained for another 5,000 dollars or so US.

All the agents questioned about obtaining this shipment stated that all shippers moving shipments into Indonesia know this rule. Air 7 Seas had to have known it to be able bring shipments into the country.

(ii) The Shipping Act of 1984 states that an Ocean Freight Forwarder (18) defined as (A) in the United States, dispatches shipments from the United States via a common carrier and books or otherwise arranges space for those shipments on behalf of shippers; and (B) processes the documentation or performs related activities incident to those shipments. And ships those shipments through an Ocean Common Carrier

(17) Defined in the Shipping Act of 1984 as: -The term "ocean common carrier" means a vessel operating common carrier.

(20) Service Contract – defined as : The term "service contract" means a written contract, other than a bill of lading or receipt, between one or more shippers, on the one hand, and an individual ocean common carrier or an agreement between or among ocean common carriers, on the other in which –

(A) the shipper or shippers commit to providing a certain volume or portion of cargo over a fixed time period; and

(B) the ocean common carrier or the agreement commits to a certain rate or rate schedule and a defined service level, such as assured space, transit time, port rotation, or similar service features.

(21) Shipment : The term "shipment" means all of the cargo carried under the terms of a single bill of lading.

(22) Shipper : The term "shipper" means

(A) a cargo owner

(B) The person for whose account the ocean transportation of cargo is provided.

(C) The person to whom delivery is to be made

(25) Through transportation – The terms "through transportation" means continuous transportation between origin and destination for which a through rate is assessed and which is offered or performed by one or more carriers, at least one of which is a common carrier, Between a United States port or point and a foreign port or point.

(iv) Here comes the plaintiff Connie Lane Christy asking for reparation for this claim.

On or about April 2, 2014 the plaintiff arranged with Air 7 Seas in a Service Contract (20) As a Shipper (22) For a shipment (21) to ship from Myrtle Beach South Carolina to Bali Indonesia.

That Service Contract (20) was entered under the defendants detail as "door to door"

Stating that through transportation (25) on both ends of this shipment

From 408 Kingston Rd. Myrtle Beach to Charleston

And from the port in Bali Indonesia to a later stated address in Bali Indonesia.

But estimated to be Denpasar Bali Indonesia

Were included in the Service Contract (20).

On or about August 30th, 2014 an export clerk for Air 7 Seas stated that they were not authorized to handle any through transportation services in Indonesia, and that the plaintiff Would have to truck the goods from the island port of Surabaya Indonesia and bribe Indonesian officials to get her goods released. She also informed the plaintiff about additional charges due to Air 7 Seas. After an additional 350 dollars US were paid by the plaintiff, she was informed that there were still outstanding charges of about 1000 dollars US before her shipment would be released.

This same clerk, who would not give her name, also stated that all arrangements would have to be handled by MSC (17), not by Air 7 Seas (18).

The plaintiff contacted Ryan Todd of MSC (Ocean Common carrier) (17) and he informed the plaintiff that they had not been paid.

After many months of working with MSC, Air 7 Seas, numerous agents in Indonesia, A family member who ships containers for Cargill, and Philip Lee –Office of Consumer Affairs & Dispute Resolution of the Federal Maritime Commission with no resolve of this situation. The plaintiff filed a claim with Air 7 Seas for an insurance claim and was told it was too late.

We were told by the family member who ships for Cargill that our container was being put up for auction in Indonesia and that the seal had been broken and contents were removed.

The plaintiff called Ryan Todd of MSC (17) and was told there was nothing he could do.

All is lost.

(iv) Statement of request for reparations:

The 40' container held all the household goods needed to start our orphanage in Indonesia. Bed linens, dishes, kitchen cabinetry, beds, furniture, dressers, cutlery, serving dishes, chairs, tables, books, lighting, and many household goods. The shipment also held all personal effects for the founder and plaintiff Connie Lane Christy. This included family heirlooms, Family photos, and many irreplaceable items that are priceless.

The orphanage could not start without this contribution from the founder.

The orphanage and school project was abandoned due to this loss.

The founder and plaintiff invested hundreds of thousands of dollars to file paperwork, And purchasing needed materials for this project. All was lost with this shipment being lost.

(v) The Shipping Act of 1984 states that (18) an Ocean Freight Forwarder dispatches shipments from the United States via common carrier and books that shipment on behalf of the shipper

And processes the documentation or performs related activities incident to those shipments.

Air 7 Seas was grossly negligent in the performance of these duties.

They were paid in full for this service. They not only did not pay in full the Ocean Common Carrier, but demanded more money for this agreed upon service and grossly downgraded the Service performed, causing undue hardship and losses for the shipper.

The Shipping Act of 1984 also states that (20) the Service Contract is a commitment to provide A certain volume or portion of cargo, commits to a rate, and a defined service level, transit time, port rotation, or similar service features.

Air 7 Seas was grossly negligent and fraudulent in the performance of the Service Contract entered into with the plaintiff Connie Lane Christy.

They did not live up to any of the agreed upon condition of this shipment.

Never delivered it.

Demanded more money to do this work.

And never fully paid the (18) Ocean Freight Forwarder.

By the fraudulent and illegal actions of Air 7 Seas, undue hardship was incurred by the plaintiff

For her company Christy Collection International Inc. and her Indonesian / Australian Orphanage and School – The Annie Grace Foundation for the Children of Bali Indonesia.

The plaintiff seeks reparation of 520,000 dollars US for the loss of goods, and the loss of the efforts involved in forming this Foundation.

(v) The plaintiff, Connie Lane Christy claims reparations of 520,000 dollars US from Air 7 Seas Transport Logistics Inc. for the violations of The Shipping Act of 1984. The service performed as an Ocean Freight Forwarder were in violation of definitions set forth in that Act. This was posed as a "Statement of Trust" between a client and a vendor regulated by the Federal Maritime Commission under the Shipping Act of 1984. The plaintiff trusted that Air 7 Seas Transport Logistics Inc. would perform such acts under the Shipping Act of 1984 and entrusted vast sums of dollars worth of goods and personal property under such an act. ←

(i) The plaintiff files this private party Complaint for formal adjudication within three years of the contract and claim ensuing. The plaintiff is requesting NO civil penalties with this formal adjudication.

No oral hearing is requested at this time.

A filing fee of 289.00 is enclosed with this filing.

The plaintiff hereby files this Private Party Complaint for Formal Adjudication Under 46 CFR 502.62 (a) (6) and 502.182 and asks for the courts judgement In this case.

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

DOCKET NO. 16-17

Connie Lane Christy

v.

Air 7 Seas Transport Logistics Inc.

Plaintiff Connie Lane Christy's Motion for Amendment to Original Complaint

Pursuant to Rules 502.69 (46 C.F.R.502.69)

Connie Lane Christy , in pro per, respectfully requests the removal of two companies

Listed on the original complaint. And in support states as follows:

- 1. Christy Collection International Inc. Was dissolved as a Statutory Closure of the Corporation due to a filing error by its accountant. It is in the process of being reinstated, but its existence has no financial or ownership bearing on this case.
- 2. The Annie Grace Foundation for the Children of Bali was deregistered in Australia When Connie Lane Christy returned to the US in 2014.
- 3. Removing them has no bearing of ownership on goods in this case.
- 4. Plaintiff has discussed this in caucus with opposing counsel and mediator Jennifer Gartlan in a caucus, and advised them of making this change. This removes the need for opposing counsel to file a motion regarding #1 and #2.

5. Christy Collection International Inc. is an employer of Connie Lane Christy. Her salary from this firm aided in the ability to fund this Foundation. The Firm has / had no ownership or standing in the entity of The Annie Grace Foundation.
6. The Annie Grace Foundation was certified under Australian law. That certification was deregistered and said Foundation had not yet taken ownership of the products and goods contained in the container.
7. Connie Lane Christy, in pro per, respectfully moves the presiding Administrative Law Judge to allow the amendment of this complaint to only hold Connie Lane Christy as the Plaintiff on this case.

Dated: January 10, 2017

Respectfully submitted,
