

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION
Office of Administrative Law Judges

THE INDIA CONNECTION LLC, Complainant

CMA CGM (AMERICA) LLC; PRIDEL PRIVATE LIMITED;
AND EAGLE MARITIME OF AMERICA INC., Respondents.

DOCKET NO. 26-11

Served: September 30, 2026

ORDER OF: Linda S. Harris CROVELLA, Administrative Law Judge.

INITIAL DECISION GRANTING VOLUNTARY DISMISSAL AND APPROVING CONFIDENTIAL SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT¹

On August 7, 2026, the Commission issued a Notice of Filing of Complaint and Assignment (“Notice”) for this proceeding. Complainant, The India Connection LLC, alleges that three Respondents violated 46 U.S.C. §§ 41102(c) and 41104(a)(14) by assessing detention charges during periods when Complainant was unable to retrieve or return specified containers due to circumstances beyond Complainant’s control, failing to consider requests for waiver or dispute resolution, and other acts or omissions.

On September 22, 2026, Respondent CMA CGM (America) LLL (“CMA CMG”) and Complainant The India Connection LLC (“TIC”) filed a Joint Motion to Voluntarily Dismiss Proceeding with Prejudice and for Confidential Treatment of Settlement Agreement (“Motion”). The Settlement Agreement was attached to the confidential version of the motion as Exhibit A and was executed by all parties, including Respondents Pridel Private Limited (“PPL”) and Eagle Maritime of America Inc. (“EMA”).

Using language borrowed in part from the Administrative Procedure Act, Rule 75 of the Commission’s Rules of Practice and Procedure gives interested parties an opportunity, inter alia, to submit offers of settlement where “time, the nature of the proceeding, and the public interest permit.” 46 C.F.R. § 502.75(b); see 5. U.S.C. § 554(c). If dismissal is sought due to a settlement by the parties, “the settlement agreement must be submitted with the motion for determination as to whether the settlement appears to violate any law or policy and to ensure the settlement is free of fraud, duress, undue influence, mistake, or other defects which might make it unapprovable.”

46 C.F.R. § 502.72(a)(3). “Unless the order states otherwise, a dismissal under this paragraph is without prejudice.” 46 C.F.R. § 502.72(a)(3).

The Commission has a strong and consistent policy of “encourag[ing] settlements and engag[ing] in every presumption which favors a finding that they are fair, correct, and valid.” Inlet Fish Producers, Inc. v. Sea-Land Serv., Inc., 29 S.R.R. 975, 978 (ALJ 2002) (quoting Old Ben Coal Co. v. Sea-Land Serv., Inc., 18 S.R.R. 1085, 1091 (ALJ 1978) (Old Ben Coal)); see also Ellenville Handle Works, Inc. v. Far Eastern Shipping Co., 20 S.R.R. 761, 762 (ALJ 1981).

The law favors the resolution of controversies and uncertainties through compromise and settlement rather than through litigation, and it is the policy of the law to uphold and enforce such contracts if they are fairly made and are not in contravention of some law or public policy. . . . The courts have considered it their duty to encourage rather than to discourage parties in resorting to compromise as a mode of adjusting conflicting claims. . . . The desire to uphold compromises and settlements is based upon various advantages which they have over litigation. The resolution of controversies by means of compromise and settlement is generally faster and less expensive than litigation; it results in a saving of time for the parties, the lawyers, and the courts, and it is thus advantageous to judicial administration, and, in turn, to government as a whole. Moreover, the use of compromise and settlement is conducive to amicable and peaceful relations between the parties to a controversy.

Old Ben Coal, 18 S.R.R. at 1092 (quoting 15A AM. JUR. 2D Compromise and Settlement § 3 (1976)).

“While following these general principles, the Commission does not merely rubber stamp any proffered settlement, no matter how anxious the parties may be to terminate their litigation.” Old Ben Coal, 18 S.R.R. at 1092. However, if “a proffered settlement does not appear to violate any law or policy and is free of fraud, duress, undue influence, mistake or other defects which might make it unapprovable despite the strong policy of the law encouraging approval of settlements, the settlement will probably pass muster and receive approval.” Old Ben Coal, 18 S.R.R. at 1093. “[I]f it is the considered judgment of the parties that whatever benefits might result from vindication of their positions would be outweighed by the costs of continued litigation and if the settlement otherwise complies with law the Commission authorizes the settlement.” Delhi Petroleum Pty. Ltd. v. U.S. Atlantic & Gulf/Australia – New Zealand Conf. and Columbus Line, Inc., 24 S.R.R. 1129, 1134 (ALJ 1988) (citations omitted).

“Reaching a settlement allows the parties to settle their differences, without an admission of a violation of law by the respondent, when both the complainant and respondent have decided that it would be much cheaper to settle on such terms than to seek to prevail after expensive litigation.” APM Terminals North America, Inc. v. Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, 31 S.R.R. 623, 626 (FMC 2009) (citing Puerto Rico Freight Sys. Inc. v. PR Logistics Corp., 30 S.R.R. 310, 311 (ALJ 2004)).

The Parties state that that they are “sophisticated corporate entities and reached the Agreement through robust negotiations, with the Agreement ‘reflect[ing] careful consideration of the parties of a variety of factors, including the relative strengths of their positions weighed against the risks and costs of continued litigation.” Motion at 3 (internal citations omitted). The Parties further state:

The Agreement does not contravene any law or public policy, and it is neither unjust nor discriminatory. It does not contemplate any adverse effects on any third parties or the shipping public. The Agreement is a fair and reasonable resolution of the dispute between the Parties and reflects their mutual desire to resolve their issues without the need for costly litigation.

Id. at 4.

The Parties request that the settlement agreement be kept confidential. Pursuant to Commission Rule 5(b), parties may request confidentiality. 46 C.F.R. § 502.5(b); see also 46 C.F.R. § 502.141(j). “If parties wish to keep the terms of their settlement agreements confidential, the Commission, as well as the courts, have honored such requests.” Al Kogan v. World Express Shipping, Transportation and Forwarding Services, Inc., 29 S.R.R. 68, 70 n.7 (ALJ 2000) (citations omitted); Marine Dynamics v. RTM Line, Ltd., 27 S.R.R. 503, 504 (ALJ 1996); Int’l Assoc. of NVOCCs v. Atlantic Container Line, 25 S.R.R. 1607, 1609 (ALJ 1991).

The confidential settlement agreement has been reviewed by the undersigned and is available to the Commission. Given the Parties’ request for confidentiality, confidential information included in the settlement agreement, and the Commission’s history of permitting agreements settling private complaints to remain confidential, the Parties’ request for confidentiality for the settlement agreement is granted. The settlement agreement will be maintained in the Secretary’s confidential files.

Based on the representations in the joint motion and other documents filed in this matter, the Parties have established that the settlement agreement does not appear to violate any law or policy or contain other defects which might make it unapprovable. The Parties have engaged in arms-length settlement discussions. Continuing the proceeding would require further discovery, extensive briefing, review of the Parties’ briefing, and an initial decision which would be subject to exceptions or appeals. The Parties have determined that the settlement reasonably resolves the issues raised in the complaint without the need for further costly litigation. Accordingly, the settlement agreement is approved.

Upon consideration of the motion, the settlement agreement, and the record, and good cause having been stated, it is hereby:

ORDERED that the motion to approve the settlement agreement between the Parties be GRANTED. It is FURTHER ORDERED that the request for confidential treatment be GRANTED. The settlement agreement should be maintained in the Secretary’s confidential files. It is FURTHER ORDERED that the Parties' motion to voluntarily dismiss the complaint with prejudice be GRANTED.
